DIARY NOTES

DD/S W

16 November 1964

1. I talked with Dwight Porter, who confirmed that the Department of State intends to implement a new policy of providing cost-free housing and furnishings for all Department of State employees overseas. Apparently they will not be able to do very much during Fiscal Year 1965 because of lack of funds. However, they expect to begin full implementation of this new policy during Fiscal Year 1966. Dwight said that Bill Trone, Director for Operations, is most knowledgeable about this new policy. (I asked [redacted] to get in touch with Alan Warfield and together to contact [redacted])

2. Howard Osborn telephoned to inform me that, at the request of the Secret Service, [redacted] shop is training five of their people in counter-measures.

3. Dick Helms telephoned to find out the effect of the new Dual Compensation Act on the salaries of retired military personnel who are now on duty with the Agency. I explained that they were now entitled to the first $2,000 of their retired pay plus 50 percent of the remainder. Through this conversation and a subsequent conversation with Emmett Echols I learned that DD/P (at least [redacted] believes the salary of a newly employed military retiree should be adjusted downward so that his combined Agency and retired pay does not exceed that of his boss. I also understand that someone has talked to General Carter about this philosophy and that he disagrees. I also disagree with it. I think that the fact that a military retiree can now receive more of his retirement compensation will, in fact, enable us to hire him for a lesser salary. However, he is legally entitled to his retired pay and should receive the salary of the grade to which he is assigned. To do otherwise, it seems to me, would be to thwart the will of Congress, which I am sure took all these things into consideration before passing the Dual Compensation Act.

4. 25X1A9a [redacted] telephoned to say that he had received a four-page letter from a company named [redacted] which complained about the way the Agency handled some contracts which we had with them. He will send the letter to me for appropriate action.

5. Mr. Kirkpatrick telephoned this morning to say that he, General Carter, and Mr. McCone had considered the recommended promotions to Level V of the Executive Pay Scale and had decided to promote only [REDACTED] at this time. The other two positions will be left vacant and will be reviewed again on or about 1 February 1965. Kirk said that he had not yet communicated this to Dick Helms but would write a brief memorandum to me as well as to Dick and Ray Cline. (I assume that they will receive a copy of the memorandum he sends to me.)

6. After learning from [REDACTED], as well as from a newspaper clipping, that Mr. Dulles is ill, I checked with [REDACTED] to see whether the Medical Staff had been in contact with him. [REDACTED] said that they had not been because [REDACTED] reported the matter to him and advised that Mr. Dulles did not wish to have any visitors and did not want anyone snooping around. When Dick Helms advised the Director of Mr. Dulles' illness at the Executive Committee Meeting this morning, I added the information which I had received from [REDACTED]. Mr. McCone undertook to call Mrs. Dulles to see whether it would be appropriate for one of our doctors to see Mr. Dulles. (I expect to hear from Mr. McCone after he talks with Mrs. Dulles.)

7. Howard Osborn reported that last Saturday, 14 November, the Director reviewed his memorandum about a security clearance for Richard [REDACTED]. The Director did not wish to give [REDACTED] a general CIA clearance; however, he personally cleared [REDACTED] to work with Bud Wheelon on NIE 11-3 for the next two or three days. The Director made it clear to Bud that this clearance is restricted to this particular occasion and for this particular purpose.

8. Howard Osborn called to report that [REDACTED] a member of [REDACTED] staff stationed in [REDACTED] and a former Office of Security careerist, had been missing for about a week. Becoming dissatisfied with the efforts of the [REDACTED] to contact this man, Howard sent [REDACTED]. Steve found him and is bringing him back to Washington tonight. He will see the medics tomorrow morning since he appears to be ill.
